Course Faculty

Jane Carreiro, DO is the vice president of health affairs and dean of the University of New England College of Osteopathic Medicine in Biddeford, Maine. She is a tenured professor who has served as the director of graduate and continuing medical education, and she has chaired the Department of Osteopathic Manipulative Medicine.

In addition to her 23-year tenure at UNECOM, Dr. Carreiro holds a visiting faculty position at the Winer Schule fur Osteopathie in Vienna, Austria, and is the honorary chief of pediatric manual medicine for the Deutsche Gesellschaft fur Osteopathische Medizin (Germany Academy of Osteopathic Medicine).

Dr. Carreiro has served as faculty and medical consultant at the Royal Melbourne Institute of Technology University in Melbourne, Australia; the European School for Osteopathy in Maidstone, England; and the Osteopathic Centre for Children in London.

Dr. Carreiro previously chaired the Board of Directors of the Osteopathic International Alliance, and she was the AAO 2012-13 president. She currently serves on the Osteopathic Recognition Committee for the Accreditation Council for Graduate Medical Education and as an expert advisor on training and practice guidelines for the World Health Organization. Her research interests include pediatric manual medicine and the innervation patterns and functional anatomy of the spine and pelvis. She has published in Spine, Archives of Pediatric and Adolescent Medicine, and The Journal of the American Osteopathic Association. She has contributed to many clinical texts and authored Pediatric Manual Medicine and An Osteopathic Approach to Children, both of which have been translated into multiple languages.

Dr. Carreiro has received numerous awards for teaching and service, including the Andrew Taylor Still Medallion of Honor in 2015. Her clinical practice focuses on pediatric osteopathic manipulative medicine, the nonpharmaceutical management of pain and other neuromusculoskeletal disorders in children. She holds board certifications from both the American Osteopathic Board of Family Physicians and the American Osteopathic Board of Special Proficiency in Osteopathic Manipulative Medicine.
